School Traffic Problem Studied by T and S

Members of Albany's Traffic and Safety commission are considering the problem of adequate protection for Albany school children.

Several suggestions were presented as a result of a meeting Nov. 9. Those attending were Superintendent of Schools Kenneth M. Forry, Cornell-Vista Principal Milton Gordon, Marin-MacGregor Principal Elizabeth Lott, Police Chief Ralph Jensen and Administrative Officer James B. Turner.

There is a possibility that the number of crossings covered will be cut down because there are not enough patrol boys to cover existing posts adequately. One crossing at both Marin and Cornell schools may be eliminated with all children attending the school instructed where to go.

The police department and schools plan an extensive indoctrination course for junior traffic guards, possibly in December.

A tentative time schedule involves: Nov. 19, sending letters from the school to each home advising of the change; Nov. 23, assemblies at both Cornell and Marin to advise children procedures to follow; Nov. 25, full coverage in the paper.

Chief Jensen and Turner reported on the meeting described above at the regular Traffic and Safety commission meeting that night (Nov. 9). In addition, T&S also discussed the Buchana-Jackson crossing, where they have had requests for an overpass or signals. They decided that matter falls within the jurisdiction of the University of California, which has put on an additional adult guard, making two on duty at peak hours. At 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 18, in the Council chambers, the T&S commission will meet with representatives of UC for further discussion.

Members of the commission are Chris van Eckhardt, chairman, Clem Tobin, John Zoro, Jan Gladding, Irving Johnson, Jensen and Turner.

Italian Night Scheduled for Post No. 292

According to Commander James Robbin this particular night is going to be limited to members of the Post However, eligible veterans who desire to join the Post this night will be welcomed. Lloyd Rasmussen, chairman of the evening is also stressing the fact that the reservation for the Italian Dinner must be made by Thursday, Nov. 19, with Charles A. Lindh, Post Adjutant.

At the end of the dinner and prior to the short business meeting, Albert Barton of Berkeley will address those assembled, using as his topic some of the controversial topics of the day from his observations. The evening will end with the Color Guard being hosts to Post members in socialibility.

Another feature of the evening will be the presentation to Commander James Robbins of a check in the amount of $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp the proceeds of the Knapp American Legion rehabilitation party held Nov. 7 at the Knapp's. Walter L. Holland will make the presentation on behalf of Frank and Lucile Knapp.

Construction Target Date Set for AHS

The target date for bid opening for construction on the $875,000 remodeling and expansion of Albany High School will be June 8 at the Albany School Board meeting, Kenneth Forry, Superintendent of Albany Schools, has announced.

Reid and Tarics, architectural firm, reported at the last Board of Education meeting that the work should be completed in time for the 1966 fall semester.

The following time table has been tentatively set up preliminary to actual construction:

- Documents prepared for opening bids on demolition: Dec. 10.
- Demolition during Christmas holidays.
- Bryan and Murphy, architectural firm, topographical survey to determine location of foundations.
- Soil testing to determine depth and weight type of foundations.

The bond issue of $875,000, passed by 72 per cent of Albany voters at the November election, calls for demolition of the four condemned structures on the Albany High School campus, for construction of two new buildings, and for safety remodeling work in the main building.

Forry also reported that $1,200 had been collected through public contributions to the bond campaign. A surplus of $190 has been donated to the band uniform fund, he said.

Harold Johansen Honored by Fire Department

Harold Johansen, fireman-maintenanceman of the Albany Fire Department, was surprised by his fellow firemen last week with a luncheon celebrating his 20 years of service with the local fire department.

Harold received a gold ring set with a diamond over a fire helmet with an inscription inside saying 20 years service. Fire Chief Gerald D. Browne made the presentation, and Captain Raul Miranda related some of Harold's experiences in the past 20 years, outstanding of which was his rescue of a stranded fisherman on San Francisco Bay. For this he won the coveted Medal of Valor. It described his rescue as above and beyond the normal call of duty with a disregard for his own safety at the time of the rescue.

Fireman Johansen is in charge of the fire alarm system in the City of Albany and serves as a company hoseman at all fire scenes. He lives with his wife, Mildred, at 1037 Ventura St., Albany. He has two married sons, Don and Dennis, who are graduates of the Albany schools.

REST HOME USE PERMIT APPEAL UPHELD BY ALBANY CITY COUNCIL

It was neighbor against neighbor as controversy reigned at the Albany City Council session last Monday night.

This factor proved important, as it entered into the finding of facts leading to the council decision to uphold the appeal signed by 20 property owners on Albany Hill against the decision of the Planning and Zoning Commission on the use permit requested by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gomez, 900 Solano, to turn their residence into a rest home.

Making the motion to uphold the appeal, Councilman Joseph Egenberger said, "It is an allowable use permit if it presupposes it will satisfy the general welfare of the neighborhood (but) it has caused turmoil." He also added that the commercial traffic of Solano could hardly provide rest for the elderly; drag racing has been a problem of the street; and it is an R1 residential area without commercial development.

During the public hearing, when both sides presented their arguments, sentiment reached a high pitch with one opponent in tears; others ranged from the argument, "Hold out your hand in friendship to the aged" to the rebuttal that the hill's residential character would be threatened, that the street is hazardous as few drivers acknowledge the speed limit, that Albany should adhere as close as possible to zoning ordinance.

When City Administrator James Turner was questioned as to the location of other rest homes within Albany, he stated that four out of the five are in R2 areas.

Debating the issue, council agreed that area should be provided for homes for the aged; in the development of the Master Plan for the City, this should be a consideration of importance. In the final voting it was the decision of council unanimously to uphold the appeal.

In other Council business, a meeting was to be set up with Vice-Chancellor O. W. Campbell of the University of California to discuss the University purchase of property formerly owned by the U.S. Steel Co., 5th and Harrison Streets. The purchase removes $80,000 from the Albany tax rolls, an approximate income of $1,600 to the city and $3,200 to the schools, plus the additional revenue of the business license. The precise use of the property by the University has not been determined and the meeting could be of importance to Albany.

A request of variance by the Christian Science Church (rehanging of doors) was passed unanimously.

A communication from the Albany Library Board of Trustees inviting the Council to attend a program at the Library on the evening of Nov. 19 to mark the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth and to help create renewed interest in the Library throughout the community was accepted with Council support and their "urge to all Albany citizens to attend."

A request from the Soroptimist Club of Albany requesting assistance in maintaining the Nourishment Fund for Albany Schools was referred to the Albany Health Officer for recommendation of action.

This is the second of a series of lectures sponsored by the Albany Library Board and is offered free to interested Albany citizens. Annual Christmas Tree Exhibit Opens Dec. 5

Gilded English holly, polished peach pits, ostrich feathers, can tops, fractured glass and blown eggs are a few of the ingenious materials which will go into the making of beautiful trees for the 14th annual presentation of the Festival of Christmas Trees Dec. 5 through 10.

The pageant of trees will comprise the heartiest of all Christmas greetings to the Bay Area from the sponsoring Children's Hospital of the East Bay. It will open first to a preview night throng Friday, Dec. 4, and thereafter will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

More than 200 masterpieces of imagery and artistry, no two alike, will fill the Claremont Hotel's Grecian Rooms. Only restriction upon the creativity of their makers is that they be no more than 30 inches in diameter or more than four feet in height. All, whether made by branch members or people of the community, will be donated to the hospital and sold for its benefit, and all will remain on display until close of the show.

Baubles and jewels, glitter and velvet, pine cones and felt, fruits and greens will appear in original forms to produce the forest of miniature wonders that grows each year in beauty and attendance.

Mrs. Lowell Trautman of Redwood Branch, who has figured prominently in the festival ever since the first one in 1951, is coordinating chairman for the 10th year. Aiding and abetting in production of the show is Mrs. John O. Rosefield, also of Redwood, who was chairman for four years.

Others assisting in the many facets of the holiday extravaganza are Mmes. Wallace Colthurst of Piedmont and A. H. Kass of Oakland, both Cypress members, staging; Glen Sliger of St. Helena and Redwood Branch, lighting; George Saxe of Oakland and Sycamore Branch, tickets; Russell Wilson of Piedmont and Harry Bruno of Oakland, both Hill Jr., preview night; and Howard Converse of Oakland and Olive Branch, hostesses.

Still more responsible jobs will be filled by Mmes. George E. Crary of Oakland and Olive Branch, tree sales; George Muller of Piedmont and Hilltop Branch, special trees; Austin L. Edwards of Berkeley and Cypress Branch, art work; William H. Claussen of Berkeley and Chinquapin Branch, door ticket sales; Kenneth Miller of Piedmont and Foothill Branch, gift table; Edward Franklin of Berkeley and L. Free TB Tests Offered by Alameda County

A program of free county-wide skin testing for tuberculosis for all those under 30, was announced Friday morning at a press conference at the Medical Hill Hut of the TB and Health Association of Alameda County, 29th and Summit Sts., Oakland, by Dr. Robert B. Stone, chairman of the TB Control Committee. It is the first time in the Bay Area that free skin testing has been offered to any group on a county-wide basis, he said.

According to Dr. Stone, tuberculosis skin-testing for the group under 30, will replace the chest X-ray, in most cases, because with a skin test it can be determined whether or not a person has been exposed to the disease. A positive skin test does not mean that one has TB, the doctor emphasized, it means only that a person has been exposed and should therefore be watched.

Skin testing, which has begun at TB and Health Association's Medical Hill Hut, will be given five days a week from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. On Saturdays, the Hut will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Fire Plug

There are two basic elements in the communication requirements of a modern fire department. One of these is an effective system of rapid contact between the operating units of the department; the other embraces the various devices which provide a means for the prompt reporting of emergencies to the fire department.

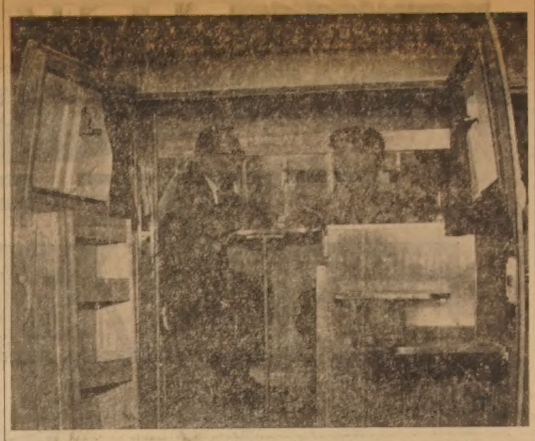

Radio has made it possible for fast and efficient contact between pieces of fire department vehicles which also allows each of them to be constantly in contact with fire alarm headquarters.

The second basic element of fire department communication is the means whereby a person discovering a fire may report it to the fire department, which is composed principally of two communication devices — the telephone and the municipal street box alarm system.

Albany has shown much progress in the past few years in the development of its fire alarm system. Today's system is a far cry from the old days when the fire department was summoned by the ringing of a bell in the tower on top of the old firehouse on Cornell Ave. Today's system is a modern one, using the most modern day methods of communications within the fire department. Eighty alarm boxes are strategically placed throughout our city for the purpose of transmitting an alarm of fire. Fourteen auxiliary boxes as well as two A.D.T. systems stand ready to convey messages to Albany's fire alarm headquarters in the event of fire. Certainly this network, which is referred to in the fire service as the nerve system, is far removed from the fire-bell that was manually operated by pulling the rope that passed through the roof to the tower on top of Albany's first firehouse on Cornell Ave. on the spot where the Cornell auditorium now stands. Today's alarm system also antiquates the system whereby the horn (known as the Albany Cow) which was blown day or night in the event of fire, much to the annoyance of not only Albany citizens, but to people of nearby cities.

Albany fire department maintains, installs and plans its fire alarm service. It has been generally recognized that the efficiency of this service in the past has been due to the ability of Harold Johansen, a department veteran of 20 years.

Recently Richard Courtney has been appointed, due to his special adaptability for this type of work, to assist Johansen. Captain John Hoeth supervises all alarm maintenance within the department. Certainly the efficiency and aptitude of these three men in their field of fire maintenance have proven not only an assurance of reliability in their efficiency, but also a great financial saving to the taxpayers of Albany.

VW BUS — John Lee, right, co-owner of Berkey-Lee Volkswagen on San Pablo Ave. and delegate to the International Imported Car Show and Dealers' Convention in San Francisco, Tuesday, Nov. 17 through Sunday, Nov. 22, at Brooks Hall in the Civic Center, and Bill Moore, salesman at Berkey-Lee Volkswagen, discuss the advantages of a fully-equipped Volkswagen bus which includes many basic comforts—stove, sink, bed, cupboards and table.

CAL MAN, CHARLES A. CROSBIE, ENTS MANY NEW PRODUCTS

ently noted as the creator of "hydro surfacants," rporated as Crosbie-Bam- bie is a fellow who has most of his life to solv- roblems which have the experts.

DETERGENTS

e's major work has been ecting 19 detergent pro- nging from a hand clean- h washes away poison ore it acts or heals the ce it has started, to a er which disperses oil s destroying harbors and to a product. Pyro No. 3, stantly snuffs gas and oil

If gas is spilled and there is one spark, you have a fire, Crosbie says. But if his product is sprayed on, you could apply a blow-torch and it would not ignite. As a possibility, it could be added to gasoline for automobiles, preventing fires following collisions. He hopes, however, to perfect a device to install in automobiles or planes which on impact would release Pyro No. 3, rendering the gasoline non-combustible.

Another of his detergents can be used in ice to boiling water on heavy duty to the finest fabrics with no shrinkage or damage. It can also be used for baths and to heal so-called "detergent hands."

PAINT REMOVER

One of his detergent products will remove paint, varnish or anything up to and including acrylic finishes with ease. Spray it on, rinse it off with the garden hose and it is ready to repaint.

His oil dispersing agent is being tested by Union Oil and should soon be standard equipment on tankers to remove any spillage.

Crosbie, who came to California from his native New York in 1911, has created a water repellent for buildings. Rain bounces off the surface yet it won't damage paint, clothing or paper. It is being used to coat blueprints which may be exposed to rain.

IN WHO'S WHO

His experiments, started in 1929, have made him one of those listed in "Who's Who in America." During World War II, Cutter Laboratories had been importing from Germany the coating for plasma containers. When they were no longer available, Cutter went to all the large companies for a suitable coating. They couldn't come up with the answer, but Charles Crosbie did He also originated a paint coating used on gas barrels and the Golden Gate Bridge. This coating is the only one approved for use by the U.S. Navy on intercommunication sets on landing barges. The Crosbie coating was submitted in competition with the top chemical companies in the country. It can be applied and will dry under water and is impervious to salt water.

His paint is used for the white lines on highways in California, Nevada and other states. It dries in three to four minutes.

In Who's Who, the following information is listed: Charles Andrew Crosbie, research chemist, born Glen Falls, N.Y., Sept. 28, 1898, son of Charles Thompson and Ida Agnes Crosbie, public schools, self-study, married Irene Rocheleau May 1, 1947, began as grocery clerk, haberdasher, auto salesman, moving picture salesman, trout culturist, research worker with oysters, growing and dehydrating by special process to obtain vitamins, minerals, hormones; 1929-'30, studied and researched to produce industrial protective coatings for unusua. applications, also ant traffic control paint. . .

CHEMICAL BAIT

Crosbie may have been the first to produce a fluoride toothpaste, but he was discouraged when dentists scoffed so he never tried to market it although he has used it himself for years. Another item he has not tried to market is a chemical bait which looks like salmon eggs, smells like salmon eggs and comes mounted on hooks. He gets a kick out of giving samples to wives of gung-ho fishermen who are out on the water and have left their families behind on shore. In many cases, the men return without fish and the wives have caught their limit, thanks to Crosbie's bait.

"I give it away to my fishing friends," he says. "I do these things instead of going to a show."

About 11 years ago, an eastern research firm asked him to make a detergent different and better than anything then on the market. He did and they were so pleased they gave him a Chrysler New Yorker, which he still drives.

"I don't know what brand name it's being marketed under," he says, "but it was a great detergent."

An early riser (he rolls out of bed at 3:30 a.m.), Crosbie dabbles in a couple of other areas. He has perfected a briquette that can be handled with white gloves. Once it is lighted, it is ready for cooking within 10 minutes. It can be snuffed out in a minute and can instantly be re-lighted.

Finally, he has originated a rejuvenator which has been acclaimed 100 per cent successful by physicians who have tested it on elderly men and women and overtired men. Families on the verge of breakup have been reunited.

Crosbie products, comparatively new on the market, are being sold directly to industry.

"It is my ambition to live long enough to see my products available in every home," Crosbie says.

Bill Land is president and general manager of Crosbie-Bamert. The firm currently employs four salesmen.

LAW IN ACTION

In a recent case Betty Brush decided to repaint her downstairs bathroom. At the paint store the salesman advised her to use a surface preparer first before she decided to do so. The label on the can stated to apply the preparer to the wall with a soft cloth, wait 15 to 20 minutes and then wash it over with enamel. The label also warned: "CAUTION: INFLAMMABLE MIXTURE. Do not use near fire or flame . . ."

The downstairs bathroom had no window, but Betty opened all the other downstairs windows. Some six feet away from the bathroom door was the hot water heater compartment. As she walked past the water heater holding the towel soaked with preparer the towel suddenly exploded and Betty was badly burned. Betty sued the paint store.

The court ruled for Betty, finding that the label said the surface preparation was flammable, not explosive. The label did say not to use the material near a fire. But how near is near? A jury could conclude that six feet away from a fire is not near. The label didn't help Betty adequately. The company had to pay damages. Some things are clearly dangerous. Dynamite, poisons, sharp tools, or large machines must be handled with care. Everyone should know about some of these dangers and take due care.

But some kinds of things have hidden dangers. Unless the maker warns of these dangers he is responsible for the harm done.

Under the law sellers of products warrant that they are fit for their intended use. The law implies this guarantee which also extends to their containers.

In another recent case, some bottles of soda water fell out of a defective carton and cut a shopper's foot badly. The shopper could not show the court that the soda water seller was at fault, but the court held that the seller must warrant his container as well as his product. If normal handling caused this injury, the manufacturer had breached his warranty; the container was not fit for its intended use.

California lawyers often . . . learn so that you may know about our laws.

Hitchhikers Have Police Records -- Beware

There are startling facts to back up the frequent warnings to drivers not to pick up hitchhikers, a leading motoring magazine reports.

In New Jersey, state troopers checked turnpike hitchhikers and discovered 162 runaways, 98 servicemen absent without leave, seven inmates fleeing mental institutions and five escaped convicts. The fingerprints of 500 others were on criminal records.

Sheldon Mix, wrting in the current issue of Home and Highway, publication of the Allstate Insurance Companies, further documents the dangers of offering rides to strangers.

Out of 100 hitchhikers passing through a small Arizona town, lawmen discovered that 84 had criminal records and 12 others were juvenile runaways or AWOL servicemen. Only four of the 100 were without police records.

Can you pick out a reputable and harmless hitchhiker? Many people think so — and guess wrong, the author points out. Five members of one family picked up a young man who murdered them and stole their car. A woman driving alone picked up a uniformed serviceman because his car had broken down. He killed her.

Many states prohibit hitchhiking, but the laws are not rigidly enforced. Despite police warnings against picking up hitchhikers, motorists continue to invite strangers into their cars.

Motorists who pick up hitchhikers face another hazard. A hitchhiker may sue the driver after an accident. In 20 states and the District of Columbia the law provides that an auto owner is liable to his "guest" in case of injury through "ordinary negligence."

"There are still some drivers who feel guilty when they turn down a 'thumb bum' on the highway, yet there is no reason to feel any obligation toward these moochers. You wouldn't open your home to them; why admit one to your car?" Col. G. R. Carrel, chief of the Colorado State Patrol, says in the article.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, puts it this way: "Offering a ride to a stranger, like passing on a hill or a curve, is a dangerous, blind gamble. In neither case can the motorist foresee what is ahead."

Learning What They Live

(Ed. Note: The following was the "president's message" in Albany High School's PTA publication, Hi Notes, this month. While we agree with Mrs. Eldon Wolf, president, that it applies to children, it can be applied to adults as well.)

If a child lives with criticism,
He learns to condemn;

If a child lives with hostility,
He learns to fight;

If a child lives with ridicule,
He learns to be shy;

If a child lives with jealousy,
He learns to feel guilty;

If a child lives with tolerance,
He learns to be patient;

If a child lives with encouragement,
He learns confidence;

If a child lives with Praise,
He learns to appreciate;

If a child lives with fairness;
He learns justice;

If a child lives with security,
He learns to have faith;

If a child lives with approval,
He learns to like himself;

If a child lives with acceptance and friendship.
He learns to find love in the world.

Sharon Irene Cooley Weds Pat Erdman in Berkeley

Sharon Irene Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cooley of 608 Key Route Blvd., Albany, became the bride of Pat Albert Erdman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan A. Erdman of Fremont in the candlelight-double ring rites performed by the Rev. C. Maxwell Brown at 7 p.m., Nov. 7, at the Epworth Methodist Church, Berkeley.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore her sister's floor-length wedding gown of silk organza and chantilly lace over taffeta. The bouffant silk organza skirt was cut in high empire lines with lace appliques on the skirt extending to a chapel length train. The fitted chantilly lace bodice had a scalloped sabrina neckline and tapered long sleeves. A small tulip crown of seed pearls held her four tierred elbow length veil of silk illusion. She wore the traditional blue garter and coin in her shoe for good luck.

The small white Bible she carried was topped with Eucharist lilies and stephanotis in a cascade arrangement.

Mrs. Gordon Linebaugh of Richmond, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor, and Mrs. Gary Smith of El Cerrito and Mrs. James Avery of Albany were bridesmaids. The attendants were dressed alike in paris pink nylon chiffon dresses. On their heads, they wore a cluster of paris pink flowers covered with matching silk illusion veiling. Shoes were dyed to match and they wore white nylon gloves. The matron of honor carried a cascade of pink carnations and white elf roses. The bridesmaids carried cascades of white carnations and pink baby roses.

Marvin Erdman of Fremont, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and the ushers were Vic McIntosh of Hayward and Gordon Linebaugh of Richmond, the bride's brother-in-law.

The alter was decorated with in arrangement of white and pink gladioli and soft pink carnations. Pews were marked with white satin bows with the soft pink carnations in the center.

Brothers of the bridegroom, Mike and Randy Erdman of Fremont were candlelighters.

Little four-year-old Nancy Rader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Rader of Berkeley, served as flower girl. She carried a white basket trimmed with pink ribbon and filled with garnet and pink baby roses. She wore a pink nylon chiffon dress with a garland headband of garnet and pink baby roses to match the flowers in her basket. Her accessories were white.

Carolyn Halbach of Concord, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Gertrude Cheney Moore, organist, played the nuptial music.

The bride's mother wore a neptune brocade sheath gown with matching jacket and emerald green satin accessories, and a corsage of gold cymbidium orchids.

Mother of the bridegroom chose to wear a two-tone blue silk brocade sheath dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sadie Woodman of Chico, selected a blue silk ensemble with blue hat and gloves, and she wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremonies, a dinner reception with dancing was held in the Lake Merritt Hotel dining room overlooking Lake Merritt in Oakland.

Sharon is a 1963 graduate of Albany High School, and a graduate of the Dental Nurses' College of San Francisco. She has been a dental assistant in Oakland for six months. She is affiliated with the Theta Beta Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Pat is a graduate of Mt. Eden High School in Hayward and a graduate of the United States Navy's Radar School, RD/3. He has been in the United States Navy one and a half years and is presently stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, on the USS Duxbury Bay.

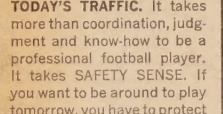

Special out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sadie Woodman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oaks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooley, and Mrs. Evelyn Cooley, all from Chico.

To Protect Your Children, Know When To Say No

Playgrounds, not automobiles, are designed for the energetic activities of your children.

"Wise parents control their children's activities in an automobile," says Edward R. Klamm, accident prevention director for the Allstate Motor Club. "Children, as well as the driver, are in constant danger unless they obey firm rules of riding conduct. Parents can't begin too early to teach toddlers how to behave in the family car."

To "KNOW" that your children are riding safely in the family car, Klamm suggests that parents insist on the following "NO's":

Say "no" to please to ride in the front seat unless riding in an adequate seat belt harness or a securely fastened infant seat. Sudden mraking in an emergency can send a small head flying against the dashboard. Everyone must sit while thec ar is moving.

Say "no" to all roughhousing, friendly or otherwise. No one may yell or shout or touch or bother the driver in an way. Don't risk hard knocks and driver distraction. Pull over and stop when children get out of hand.

Say "no" to lollipops and ice cream-on-a-stick while riding. A bump or swerve may turn the treat into a threat to your child's eyes and mouth.

Say "no" to heads and hands out of the window—even a "little bit." Everyone must keep hands, head and possessions inside the car windows and all doors must be locked while the car is moving to avoid the danger of a child toppling out.

Say "no" to hard, sharp or heavy toys, for car riding amusement. In action, they're hazardous. Stowed on the rear deck, they can fly like shrapnel when you have to make a sudden stop.

Your child is in danger all the time he is riding in a car, the Allstate Motor Club reminds you. Seat belts should be worn on all trips and all traffic laws should be obeyed. Save your child's life by enforcing safe riding rules all of the time and by setting an example yourself.

Editor, the Times:

The members of Cornell PTA would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of Albany for their marvelous response to our spaghetti dinner. We would also like to express our gratitude to Mr. Paul Inserra, supervisor for Safeway Stores and Mr. John Goodall, manager of the El Cerrito Plaza Lucky Store, for their contributions and their discount for the groceries.

We wish to apologize to all the people for the delay in serving the food. The response was so much more than our expectations that at times we could not keep the line going as well as we would have liked it to go.

We also wish to commend the children of the Cornell 6th grade class for their help in keeping the tables cleared and cleaned. They did a wonderful job and much of the success of this dinner can be attributed to them.

Again we say, thank you all, people of Albany.

MRS. LOLLY LAVAGNINO

Editor, the Times:

As President of the Cornell PTA I would like to express my thanks to those who supported our recent spaghetti dinner and made it such a success, the Times for the publicity, Mr. Paul Inserra of Safeway Stores and Mr. John Goodall of Lucky Stores for their donations of food and discounts given, and the children from the Cornell sixth grade who assisted at the tables, and did such a fine job.

My thanks also to the members of the PTA who helped with the dinner. The overwhelming response caused some delay in serving and I hope that those who waited so patiently in line were not too greatly inconvenienced.

President, Cornell PTA
JANE WESTERLUND,

Editor, the Times:

My sincere thanks and appreciation to the Times for your support in my re-election as a Director of the AC Transit District No. 2.

Will you kindly express my gratitude to all the fine people who voted for me.

My re-election to this office is very gratifying to me and I will to the best of my ability serve the people of this district.

Yours truly,
W. E. BERK

Editor, the Times:

Please inform our friends, contributors to the project to collect General Mills coupons for Copper Valley School, that I plan to mail what may be my last shipment by the end of this month. Word from the school at Glennallen, Alaska, says that they are down to their last quarter of a million coupons, and that General Mills has sent a check for $5,000 already, and will remit the remainder when the rest of the coupons have been turned in. The bus has been purchased and is, ever now, en route to Alaska, having been loaded on a barge at Seattle.

I have about 3,000 coupons on hand and am hoping for another 2,000, which will bring our contribution to 15,000, counting those already sent. This would mean that we have donated one one-hundredth of the bus—15,000 of the 1,500,000 coupons—if we can just manage that 2,000 more.

Notes received from contributors, and their thoughtfulness in trimming and sorting their coupons, is much appreciated. My nephew, Norman Kibble, who is president of the senior class this year, wants me to convey his gratitude.

Editor, the Times:

I am a Japanese girl. I am 13 years old. I would like very much to have a friend of my own age in your country. I am writing to you in the hope that you might be able to help me get in touch with a young person who may wish to have a new friend here.

What I would like to do is to exchange information and views about school life and daily life. Writing and reading in English will be very helpful to me in studying the English language. So I will try hard to be of use to my friend in any way that I can to make up for this extra benefit to me.

I got the idea of writing to a newspaper editor from the Youth Council for International Contact in Tokyo. This organization, of which I am a member, has thousands of student members over Japan and tries to promote international friendship and understanding.

I am very much in sympathy with this aim and I think I can help to make this a peaceful and friendly world by being a friend to someone in another country. I will be very grateful to you if you can help me get in touch with someone who wants to do the same.

Senior Class Presents Play Friday Night

To help usher out the senior class at Albany High School, "Design for Murder" by George Batson, a mystery of the darkest kind, will be the introduction to senior activities.

The play, scheduled for Nov. 20, 8 p.m., at the Albany High School gymnasium, is one of the Tallulah Bankhead vehicles of the 1950's. It received glowing notices in the Broadway press at the time.

The setting is in the eastern seaboard where a society matron, Mrs. Granger, played by Diane Coring, and her son, played by Bonnie Cave, live. Since the old home is falling into disrepair and the family fortune depleated, the son is being married to money and social status. The Grangers' chauffeur, played by Mike Klobas, invites trouble with the attractive females on the staff. One murder leads to another and ensuing complications keep interest high and suspense sustained.

Valeria Hanelt, Judy McGrath and Dale Wilkins strengthen the cast with character roles, joined by Suzie Campbell and Pat Britan, who play the parts of the house maids. Bob Isert has the role of town detective. The surprise ending concludes a good evening's entertainment.

Galen Wolf, Bonnie Hutchinson, Kathy Starbuck, Terry Herschbert and Mike Payne have been working on the stage refurbishing sets. May Jessup is assisting Freeman Sargent in getting the production ready for presentation.

Tickets may be purchased at the box office. The Albany High School orchestra, under the direction of Ernest Douglas, will be featured during intermissions.

The wedding is scheduled for February 20 at the Church of Christ, Berkeley.

Berkeley Schools Hold Joint Meeting

Dr. Sullivan will speak on the future of Berkeley public schools, including some of the aspects of the 25-year master plan for our schools.

A question and answer period will be conducted after Dr. Sullivan's talk to further enlighten the parents of Berkeley school children.

Introducing the superintendent will be Mr. Jordan Hiratzka, well-known Bay Area civic figure, who will chair the event.

A get-acquainted 7:30 to 8 o'clock coffee period will precede Dr. Sullivan's talk, hosted by the presidents of the three schools: Mrs. John Muller, Jefferson; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Skeels, Thousand Oaks; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nielsen, Oxford.

"Bunk!"

"Hard to believe..."

"Must have had a 50-year-old Rolls..."

"Come on now..."

"Amazing..."

"This ad kills me..."

"Incredible!"

"Ridiculous!"

"Farfetched!"

"Hooey!"

To the 5 out of 10 people who didn't believe this ad...

a sporting proposition

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. No claim is made that the 1965 Ford is a Rolls-Royce. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U. S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever . . . a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations . . . new ultrasoft coil-spring suspensions . . . and dozens of other engineering advances—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ New ultra-luxurious LTD series—the like of which no other car in Ford's class offers: walnut-like paneling in instrument panel and doors . . . opulent vinyl-and-nylon upholstery . . . thick cut-pile carpeting . . . rear center arm rests . . . many other luxuries.

■ Silent-Flo ventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed. ■ Exclusive new twin-edge key works with either side up. ■ Convertible rear window of pliant glass—won't crack or discolor like plastic. And you don't have to unzip them when you put the top down.

■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models. ■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars. Result: you pass faster, shift smoother, save on gas. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car to offer . . . take a test drive. Even if you're one of the 5 out of 10 who did believe our ad . . . come in. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.

Co-op Nursery School Parents Attend Child Creativity Class

Paint books are a detrement to children's creativity, Mrs. Charles Rush, director of the Village Co-operative Nursery School, informed members of the Thursday night parents' class, the second on creative activities appropriate for the young child.

Parents also learned the importance of providing creative materials and leaving children alone to use them. These materials should be large to accommodate the immaturity of preschoolers' muscles.

Topic for the Nov. 18 meeting will be "Discipline—When and What Kind."

Parents interested in the nursery school program should contact Mrs. Barbara Farmer at 526-8212. Minimum age for a child to be enrolled is two years, nine months. Younger children attend Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9 to 11:30; older children Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. One parent is required to participate five to seven times a quarter and attend the Thursday night class. The fee for the program is $10 a quarter for the two-day group and $15 a quarter for the three-day group.

The program is a part of the Albany Adult Education program.

Albany Chairman Announces Kick-Off

Miss Sherri Raap, Miss California, and Dave McElhatton, radio comedian, will headline the 1964 Alameda County Christmas Seal kick-off luncheon to be held at the Edgewater Inn, Oakland, Friday, Nov. 20, according to Mrs. Thomas C. Cock, 58 Domingo St., Berkeley, Albany chairman.

The kick-off luncheon will mark the 58th annual Christmas Seal campaign by the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Alameda County.

This year's seals, the proceeds from whose sale finance the local association's year-round program, will be officially unveiled at that time, according to county-wide Christmas Seal chairman, Mrs. Paul C. Henshaw of Berkeley.

Women's Society Sponsors Bazaar

A Harvest Housewarming is the theme for the annual bazaar of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Albany Methodist Church, Marin and Stannage Ave., to be held in the new building addition Saturday, Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A smorgasbord luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Delicious home-cooked foods and salads will be featured.

Varied booths will have articles for Christmas purchases. A "Pantry Shelf" of home baked goodies and a home-made candy table, as well as a "White Elephant" booth, will add interest and please the customers. Games and fun are scheduled for the young set, sponsored by the Youth Fellowship.

The bazaar chairman this year is Mrs. Ray Harvey, assisted by Mrs. Lowell Keith. The luncheon is sponsored by the Montaro Circle and chairman is Mrs. Carl Scott.

Chamber News and Views

By Neal Clarity, Secretary-Manager

The economic growth and progress of a community depends a lot on the attitude of its citizens and businessmen. In order to promote new industry and new businesses for a community, the Chamber of Commerce must know the advantages of living and doing business in the area. We also should know some of our weaknesses and bad points so we can take direct action to correct them.

Every community has its good and bad points and only the community that takes advantage of its assets and corrects its liabilities is the community that will move ahead.

The public would be shocked to know how many business and industrial prospects are interested in locating in Albany but are discouraged because of the information they have obtained from the citizenry.

Naturally when a prospect comes into the Chamber office or city hall for information, we give them what they want and also try to sell our community to them in hopes of them locating here. But, they aren't as naive to believe everything we tell them and many times they want to know what the people think of Albany as citizens and businessmen, so they go around the village asking questions such as. . . . What do you like about Albany? What don't you like about Albany? What improvements are needed in Albany? etc. and come to their own conclusion if they should locate here or not.

We certainly don't want everyone to neglect our bad points as the only way they can be corrected is to bring them out in the open and try to solve them together, but you never know when the stranger who asks you these questions might be representing a firm wishing to build a plant that will hire 100 people and bring in a substantial amount of tax dollars to the community.

Every once in a while, it is interesting and most helpful to have the public opinion of the community and this is what we will attempt to obtain by this questionnaire.

Naturally, the results of the survey will be nil if only a few respond, so we ask that anyone who is interested in the development of Albany or anyone who is interested in correcting some of our bad points, to participate and help us determine our assets and liabilities.

Smoking Decrease At Albany High

A sharp decrease in the number of students of Albany High who smoke has been reported by Mrs. Freda Hanelt, the AHS school nurse.

This drop was noted by two surveys on the smoking habits of the school's students, one conducted recently, the other over a year ago.

Of 722 pupils polled anonimously this year, 10.5 per cent answered yes to the question, "Do you smoke half a package of cigarettes a day?" This was a drop of 7.1 per cent under the 17.4 per cent of the students who said "yes" a year ago.

"I am very happy with the results of this survey," Mrs. Hanelt states, "especially in comparison to those of last year."

Other results of the 1964 poll show that 6.7 per cent of the students questioned smoke less than half a pack a day, and 23.5 per cent smoke at least one a day.

Finally, 55.1 per cent of the students questioned said that they did not smoke at all.

SENIOR CITIZENS

846 Masonic

By Emma Claymore

In spite of the inclement weather, a large crowd was in attendance at the Senior Center on Thursday, Nov. 12. Bingo was played, community singing enjoyed and cards played.

The community service group, which meets every Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., have a lot of work to be done before Christmas. They have made 150 doll dresses and will now be busy dressing 150 dolls for the Christmas Bureau. They are also packaging seals for Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and addressing contribution blanks for the National Foundation March of Dimes. This is a great opportunity for Seniors who do not care to play cards to come in and visit with a congenial group and get acquainted while you work. Bring your own sandwich and coffee will be provided. You will enjoy it.

The craft classes on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. are making Christmas decorations. Some of these are to be donated to Highland Hospital for their tree. This is the first time Highland Hospital has ever received any volunteer work and the seniors feel privileged to be the first to contribute it.

The Thanksgiving dinner for members only will be served on Thursday, Nov. 19, at 2 p.m.

The Center will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26.

For any information concerning the Center or its activities, please call 526-1601.
